

Journalism - Photojournalism Major

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

Overview

Our Journalism program is your gateway to an exciting career in the world of multimedia. If you have a passion for photography, our Photojournalism major is perfect for you.

You'll learn the basics of journalism, including the ethical reporting of news, and then branch out in various areas, including marketing, public relations, and social media or digital content creation.

In the first year, you'll dive into news writing, basic photography, marketing, advertising, public relations, publication design, and online journalism. You'll build a solid foundation in journalism skills, preparing you for various career opportunities in media, marketing, digital media and more.

In the second year, you'll master advanced photography techniques, including lighting, portraiture, and image editing. You'll also learn about website development, videography, and long-form visual storytelling. This major equips you to work as a photographer, combining images with text, audio, and video to tell compelling stories.

This field offers the flexibility to blaze your path, whether as a freelance writer or photographer or working for a company or a news organization.

Our class sizes are small, with 32 students on average, and photography class sizes are capped at 16.

Whether you're passionate about writing, photography, or digital media, our Journalism program is your first step toward a rewarding career in storytelling, communication and the creative industries.

Traits, skills and aptitudes

Those in journalism or creative industries tend to be innovative, methodical, and directive.

You need:

- flexibility
- eloquence and precise language skills
- an understanding of your medium and knowledge of your area of interest
- the ability to be objective and self-critical about your work and to accept objective criticism from others
- research and organizational skills
- time-management skills
- negotiation and marketing skills
- interviewing skills
- self-discipline.

You should enjoy gathering and clarifying information, writing, and presenting to people. You should also be prepared to work irregular hours and travel for work.

Academic path

The opportunity to advance your education by transferring into this program or gain credit for previous postsecondary courses may be available.

There may also be opportunities to further your education once you graduate.

Learn more about program and institution transfer options.

Credentials

After successfully completing this program, you'll receive a SAIT Journalism diploma with a major in Photojournalism.

Practicum, Co-op and Work Integrated Learning

In your final semester, you'll participate in a four-week practicum at a digital or print-based journalism, editorial, corporate or non-profit organization.

You are responsible for securing your placement, which needs to be approved. Before your practicum, you'll complete assignments and get assistance creating a resume, setting up your LinkedIn profile, practicing interviews, and learning how to approach potential employers about a practicum placement.

You'll also have the option to complete a cooperative work term between your first and second year of study. This work term isn't required to graduate.
