2019/20

sait.ca

Welcome to the Southern Alberta Institute of Technology (SAIT)

A student award can help you achieve your goals. SAIT is proud to offer more than $5 million in scholarships and bursaries to students in almost every program, and you'll find complete details in this guide.

Whether you are starting your very first semester or getting ready to graduate, awards are available to all qualifying SAIT students.

Some awards recognize your academic success and other awards recognize your community involvement. But every award has been created because of generous donations from SAIT alumni, faculty and staff as well as corporate partners and friends. And every student award is dedicated to helping SAIT students find success.

I encourage you to apply for a student award. You'll find everything you need to know about the application process in this guide. You can also attend our helpful award assistance labs to learn about the process in person — visit MySAIT.ca for more information.

If you receive an award, please help us and future students by thanking the donor or sponsor who provided the funds. Your award confirmation email will include suggestions for how you can say "thank you" either in person or online. Then watch your student email for invitations to our Student Award Celebrations throughout the year. Expressing your gratitude helps you make a great impression — and it's a smart way to connect with thousands of influential SAIT donors, sponsors and potential employers.

Those who graduate from SAIT join a network of more than 236,000 proud alumni — people who are making a difference in their communities and around the world. As you work towards your goal of graduating, SAIT's Alumni and Development team is working to support you and your career goals.

We're here to help, and we'd love to meet you. Drop by the Student Awards window (AA113 in Heritage Hall) to say hello.

I wish you a great year and continued success.

Student Awards – a Big Benefit

Each year thousands of worthy SAIT students receive over $5 million in awards from our donors. A student award can mean the difference between attending SAIT or not, or having to work while in school and taking longer to graduate. These awards can help you manage your finances so that you are able to start your careers off right.

SAIT offers more than 4,500 awards in the following categories: Entrance, General, School-Nominated and Government.

Entrance Awards

This brochure outlines the 2019/2020 Entrance Awards that are available online for application from July 8 to Aug. 15, 2019. Entrance Awards are designated for students who are beginning a new program in the upcoming fall. In some instances they are program specific and in others, students in all programs may apply.

Please Note: If you are an apprentice or are in a pre-employment program, you must apply during your intake (while you are at SAIT) during the 2019/20 year.

Additional Award Categories

Additional awards available to SAIT students are detailed in the Student Awards Guide made available in August each year. Once you are confirmed in your program and have paid your tuition deposit, you can apply for awards in these other categories.

GENERAL AWARDS

Undesignated awards that, in most circumstances, any student in any program may apply for provided they meet the criteria.

PROGRAM-SPECIFIC AWARDS

Designated to the academic schools and specific to each program of study.

GOVERNMENT AWARDS

Designed and issued directly by the government. All details on these awards can be found by visiting studentaid.alberta.ca.

Award Criteria

SAIT awards are given based in whole or in part on the following criteria:

ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT

A pre-determined Grade Point Average (GPA).

FINANCIAL NEED

Financial need is determined by assessing a student's income and expenses for the academic year. Students receiving student loans may still be considered to be in financial need.

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

Participation in community events, volunteer commitments with non-profits and/or charities, and involvement in extracurricular activities such as sports or church. It is important to include as much information as possible about these activities in your application.

DONOR SPECIFIC

Criteria which the donor of the award has identified as important to them.

General Information

WHO MAY APPLY?

If you are enrolled at SAIT as a continuous, full-time student or apprentice you may be eligible to apply.

I'M AN INTERNATIONAL STUDENT — AM I ELIGIBLE?

Students who are citizens of countries other than Canada and who have been accepted at SAIT on a student visa may be eligible for SAIT student awards. Each SAIT student award has its own criteria. If you meet the criteria, you can apply for the award. Please note: if the award criteria does not specify a citizenship requirement, both international students, Canadian students and permanent residents can apply for that award.

In order to collect the award, an international student must have either a Canadian Social Insurance Number (SIN) or an Individual Tax Number (ITN). International students should contact the SAIT International Centre for details and assistance. The Centre may also suggest other awards that are directed specifically to international students.

How to Apply

The application will be accessible through your mySAIT.ca account starting on July 8, 2019. The application must be completed and submitted by the deadline date. All supporting documentation must be submitted to the SAIT Student Awards Office by the deadline date. All documentation and questions can be sent to scholarships@sait.ca

Application Deadline

Please note that Entrance Awards are only open for application from July 8 to Aug. 15, 2019. This deadline is firm and cannot be extended.

For Apprentice and Pre-Employment Awards, you must apply during your first period of training while you are attending SAIT during the 2019/20 year.

Transcripts

Some awards require a recent high school transcript for specific courses. If the award you are applying to requests a copy of your transcripts, the system will inform you during the application form. All documentation needs to be submitted to the Alumni and Development office (AA113) or via email to scholarships@sait.ca prior to August 15, 2019.

Application Tips

READ THE CRITERIA

Read the conditions for each award carefully. Please do not apply for an award if you do not meet its criteria. This will save you time in completing your application.

A WORD ABOUT YOUR REFERENCES

Choose your references with care.

Employers, religious leaders, community leaders, teachers and instructors can serve as excellent references. Ideally your references should have known you for a minimum of six months. Avoid using members of your family, best friends or roommates. Please advise your references that you are applying for an award and inform them of the specific criteria of that award so that, if required, they are prepared to explain why you are a suitable candidate. Your references should always try to talk about your current attributes and skills.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

If you are applying for any awards that include financial need within the criteria, you must fill in the financial information section. Please provide accurate information on monthly expenses and income. If you are unsure of exact amounts, provide an estimate.

ESSAYS, WRITTEN DOCUMENTATION, SPECIALTY CRITERIA

Please read these sections carefully and answer the questions as specifically as you can. It is best to provide as much detailed information as possible.

If I win an award – how will I know?

SAIT Alumni and Development will notify students selected for awards no more than four months after the application deadline. Recipients will receive an email, telephone call or a letter with information about when and how to pick up the awards package.

There are at least 465 words for “thank you”

SAIT awards are created by donors who invest their money to make a difference and transform lives. We hope you are one of the nearly 4,500 students who will receive a student award this year and, no matter how you say it — cheers, merci, danke, shukran, xie xie, gracias, shukriya — you can help us show gratitude to the donors who care so much about you and your fellow SAIT students. If you do receive an award, here is how you can say “thank you” to SAIT supporters:

- Write a thank you note to the donor.
- Attend one of Alumni and Development’s student award celebrations where you can meet donors and express your thanks in person.
- When you are successful in the workforce, please keep in touch and consider supporting SAIT in any way you can.

Tax information for scholarships and bursaries

Scholarships and bursaries are generally not taxable and are not reported as income on your tax return. In February, SAIT will issue a T4A through the mail and the T2202A tax forms (Tuition, Education and Textbook Amounts Certificate) which can be accessed by students on mysait.ca only.

If you are unsure of your tax status, contact the Canada Revenue Agency at 1.800.959.8281 or visit cra.gc.ca.

PLEASE NOTE

All information listed in this guide, including awards offered, the value of awards and the number of awards available, is subject to SAIT receiving funding for the awards listed. In the event that funding is cancelled, awards will be reallocated to a program area designated by Alumni and Development. If there is a discrepancy between the published award criteria or value and the official award documentation located in the Alumni and Development department, the official documentation is deemed accurate. Award criteria and values are subject to change.

Awards inspire student success

When Courtney Lovgren was in grade six, her mother told her she'd make a good journalist some day because she likes telling stories. Little did she know that, with the help of a SAIT Student Award, her mother's prediction would come true.

After high school, Lovgren didn't immediately think about journalism. She had a false start in search of a career but she eventually turned back to her mom for advice. She looked into SAIT's Journalism program and decided it would be the perfect combination of writing and photography.

"It's exactly what mom and I discussed in grade six," she says. "Parents always say 'down the road you're going to say 'darn, I wish I had listened to my mom.' That turned out to be true."

Lovgren also listened to friends and family who advised her apply for SAIT Student Awards which also turned out to be great advice.

She received the Bissett Bursary award that covered her tuition and other school fees for the entire two-year program. She also received the John Nelson Snuggs Memorial Award.

Lovgren says, as a student, she had some bumps along the way including family crises and other stressful events. She says, when the assignments pile up, being a student can be stressful all by itself – not having to worry so much about money helps a lot.

"It's a wonderful feeling to find success at SAIT, says Lovgren. "It couldn't have happened if it wasn't for the Bissett award and other awards I received. They've inspired, pushed, and motivated me. It's because of them I'll be able to have some of my dreams come true.

"I am so beyond grateful for the educational opportunity I have been given."
